

Agrichemical Warehousing Standard Association
WAREHOUSING STANDARDS BULLETIN

Updated: January 2006

NUMBER: 21

Definition and Fire Rating of Interior Fire Compartment Separation Walls (relating to protocol B1)

The National Fire Code defines a “fire compartment” as an enclosed space in a building that is separated from all other parts of the building by enclosed construction providing a fire separation having a required fire-resistance rating.

Examples of interior fire compartment separation walls and their fire-resistance rating follow.

AWSA and the CropLife Canada, their employees, members or agents have neither made, nor do not hereby make, any representation, warranty or covenant with respect to the specifications, information and recommendations in this bulletin, or the results generated by their use, nor will they be liable for any damage, losses or claims, including those of an incidental or consequential nature, arising out of the use or inability to use this bulletin. Use of trade name implies neither endorsement of products, nor criticism of similar ones not mentioned.